MEDAL AND CHAMPIONSHIP

MISS CRESEY RUSSELL A PRIZE WINNER.

In a Sharp-shooting Contest at Chicago She Received First Prize and Gold Medal Among a Score of Clever Marksmen—Found a Midnight Prowler in Her Room—Marriage and Farewell Reception—Two Fires in Bellevue—Other News Notes and Personal of Interest.

Miss Cressey Russell, of Jackson street, who is now traveling through the West with Boone and Yankee's theatrical company, and who is regarded as one of the cleverest lady rifle shots living, has again distinguished herself in handling the rifle. Some time ago, while in Chicago, Miss Russell entered a sharp-shooting contest in M. Bolan's galleries at 288 State street, against several crack shots, and she has just received the first prize, a handsome gold medal, suitably engraved as a reward. Miss Russell is familiarly known as "The Queen of the American Cow Girls," and it will be recalled that while traveling with Buckskin Bill's Wild West Show in Muncie, Indiana, last season, her foot caught in the strapped of her saddle, while jumping from one horse to another, and she was dragged headlong around the ring at a frightful pace, before the eyes of the spectators.

When the horse was stopped at the point of a pitchfork, and Miss Russell was released, she was found to be unconscious, and her limb was frightfully wrenched. For two months she lay helpless in a hospital, and was later brought home by her mother, Mrs. Titman, who carefully nursed her back to health and strength again.

As soon as she was able, Miss Russell rejoined the show at Pittsburg, but has done little riding since, and devoted most of her time to shooting. While the company was playing in Chicago, she entered the contest for the championship of Illinois and won it.

Singularly enough this clever marksman does not know that she was awarded the medal, as it was forwarded to her home address, and received by her mother, who proudly displays it to her friends. It will be forwarded to Miss Russell as soon as the company's route can be ascertained.

The accompanying cut is an excellent picture of Miss Russell, who is but 23 years of age, and single.

Parsonage Wedding.

Miss Catherine Howell, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Howell, of 122 North Garfield avenue, was united in marriage to Gilbert H. Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Thomas, of 1908 Lafayette street, on Tuesday evening at the parsonage of the First Welsh Baptist church, the pastor, Rev. D. D. Hopkins, officiating. The happy couple were unattended.

The bride was attired in a beautiful suit of navy blue broadcloth, trimmed with lace. At the conclusion of the ceremony they repaired to the home of the bride's parents where a reception and wedding supper were held.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Thomas are well known and very popular. After a brief wedding trip to New York city, Philadelphia and Washington they will reside in a newly furnished home on this side, where they will receive their numerous friends.

Martha Washington Tea.

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Baptist church has issued tickets for a Martha Washington tea and entertainment which will be held in the church parlors on February.

The past success of the various affairs held by this society ensure a most enjoyable time for all who attend. The ladies have secured some of the finest talent in our city and many who have delightfully entertained in the past will be there to entertain on this occasion.

Of Social Note.

Roy Madden, of South Bromley avenue, was tendered a farewell reception on Tuesday evening at his home by the members of Miss Anna Hugh's Sunday school class of the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church.

Mr. Madden left last evening for Chicago and the event was a farewell reception in his honor. The usual festivities were indulged in and at the conclusion of the evening's enjoyment several of his fellow class-mates made short speeches expressing their sorrow at his departure and wishing him future success. A dainty repast was served at a late hour.

Yesterday's Fires.

An alarm of fire turned in from box 42, at the corner of Third avenue and Fellows street, called out the Columbia and Eagles at 5 o'clock yesterday morning. Upon reaching the scene of the fire, they found that the explosion of an oil lamp in a bedroom on the first floor at the home of Patrick Casey on Fourth street had set fire to the furniture of the room.

The chemicals were applied and the fire extinguished after doing damage to the extent of $75. The building in which the fire took place is rather large and several families reside there and as a result quite an exciting time was had by the frightened people.

At 4:30 yesterday afternoon the Columbia and Eagle companies responded to an alarm from the same box, the fire this time being in the hall over the saloon of Patrick Golden on Railroad avenue.

The fire started from an overheated stove in the hall and before discovered had burned over a large area. The chemicals were applied and after a short but exciting fight the fire was put out. The damage will probably amount to about $100.

Midnight Visitor.

Yesterday morning about 1 o'clock, the daughter of Select Councilman Thomas Cosgrove, the well-known North Main avenue hotel proprietor, awoke to find that a man was standing in the doorway of her room.

She immediately called her brother, Eugene, who promptly ejected the intruder. The supposition is that the fellow, who was intoxicated, was leaning against the side door, which was unlocked, and finding the door open, he walked in and up-stairs, where he was discovered.

He was later arrested in front of Jenkins' drug store and in police court yesterday morning was sentenced to pay a fine of $3 or spend ten days in the county jail for being drunk. He was sent up later in the day, in default of the fine.

Revival Meetings.

An unusually good meeting was held last evening at the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church. The pastor delivered a fine address on "Perseverance in Well-doing." The male quartette never sang better. This evening, Rev. C. H. Newling will preach.

The meeting at the First Baptist church was well attended and interesting, the pastor, Rev. S. F. Matthews delivering a strong address.

Rev. A. H. Smith, pastor of the North Main avenue Baptist church, will preach at the Jackson Street church tonight.

Events of This Evening.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Washington Street Presbyterian church will hold an all-day session today.

The Women's guild of St. Mark's church will serve one of their usual good suppers tonight.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church will also serve a supper in the church parlors this evening.

This evening will occur the wedding of Louis Davies, of Twelfth street, to Miss May Samuels, of Landis street.

NOTES AND PERSONALS.

A special meeting of Local No. 1072, United Mine Workers of America, will be held this evening in D. D. Evans' hall, South Main avenue. Business of importance requires the attendance of every member.

Mrs. Martha Larned and Miss Anna Williams, of Waterbury, Conn., are visiting Mrs. L. Pratt, of Lincoln avenue.

Rev. Frank Milman, of Pottsville, formerly pastor of the Summer avenue Presbyterian church is visiting his numerous West Side friends. He had charge of the service at his former church last evening.

The Temperance Alliance choir met for rehearsal last evening in the First Welsh Congregational church.

The Colonial club of the P. O. S. of A. will take a trip over the mountain to Newton Center, on Friday evening.

The Catholic Relief and Beneficial association, council No. 159, will hold a very important meeting in Y. M. I. hall on Monday evening.

This evening will take place the match game between the first and second teams of the Electric City Wheelmen bowlers in the club house.

Mrs. T. T. Howells, of Washburn street, fell yesterday and fractured her arm.

West Side assembly, No. 391, Royal Society of Good Fellows, will hold an important meeting in Red Men's hall tonight.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Julia Malia of 1025 Price street, will take place at 9 o'clock this morning from St. Patrick's church. Interment in the Catholic cemetery.

DUNMORE.

A rumor that received a wide circulation yesterday stated that Mrs. Van Why, who lives at 222 Spencer street, was a sufferer from smallpox. The rumor was that she had been at Priceburg nursing relatives of the same name and had been allowed to return home and was stricken on Saturday last. A member of the family stated last night that Mrs. Van Why had not been at Priceburg since last summer and while she has been confined to her bed during the past two weeks, there has been no sign of smallpox as yet.

The entertainment given in St. Mark's parish house last night, under the auspices of the Sunday school class of Marvin Futhill, was largely attended and much enjoyed by all present.

Cured of Piles, Saved From Knife.

Mrs. Aaron Medron, of Savannah, Ga., writes: "Ever since the birth of my first child, six years ago, I have suffered greatly from piles. I could not bring myself to bear the thoughts of a surgical operation. Pyramid Pile Cure entirely cured me." For sale by all druggists. "Piles, Causes and Cure," mailed free. Funeral of the Late Charles Henwood.

Entertainment in Tabernacle Tonight—Other Notes.

The funeral of the late Charles Henwood, the well-known druggist, was conducted from his late residence, 2015 North Main avenue, yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Long before the time for the funeral, large throngs of his friends gathered at the home to pay their last respects.

The services were conducted at the home by Rev. Robert F. Y. Pierce, pastor of the Penn Avenue Baptist church, assisted by Rev. A. H. Smith, of the North Main Avenue Baptist church, and Rev. George E. Guild, of the Providence Presbyterian church. During the services several selections were sung by the Penn Avenue Baptist church quartette. Interment was made in the family plot at the Forest Hill cemetery.

The pall-bearers were Luther Keller, J. L. Stelle, L. M. Horton, William Chappel, Giles S. Clark and M. J. Stone.

Entertainment Tonight.

This evening the boys connected with the basket ball team of the Tabernacle will hold an interesting literary and musical entertainment in the Tabernacle of the North Main Avenue Baptist church. The following programme will be rendered by some of the best talent in this section:

When Evans Met the Prince. In "A Soldier's Log," written by Admiral Evans, a chapter is devoted to the Kiel celebration, the author being there in command of the armed cutter New York, of a reception given on board of the German battleships, Rear Admiral Evans wrote:

"I had an interesting experience. When I went over the side I found a large company, most of whom were of the same name. They stood on one side to be out of the way, and entered into conversation with a young, clean looking German captain, who spoke English perfectly, and was very courteous. He was looking in his profession, and we engaged in a rather sharp professional talk. I did not agree with the captain, whose name I had not caught, and did not hesitate to speak my mind—got it.

"After a time he said he would be glad to present me to his wife, and I found her a very charming and attractive woman. Of course I had not caught her name, either; but after talking with her for half an hour I noticed that a good many people seemed to be waiting to speak to me, so I took myself to the smoking compartment to enjoy a cigar. When I entered, Admiral Knorr greeted me and said:

HEPTASOPHS' NEW OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED.

Roaring Brook Conclave Has a Gala Night in Honor of Its Tenth Anniversary and Its Newly-Elected Officers—Prizes for Riflemen—Held in $1,000 Ball for a Murderous Assault—Another Speakeasy Keeper Fined—Funeral of Irene Biemiller. News Notes and Personal.

Athletic hall, on Alder street, was ablaze with lights and charmingly festooned with hanging of various colors last evening on the occasion of the tenth anniversary of Roaring Brook conclave, No. 214, Improved Order of Heptasophs.

It was a pretty and inspiring scene as the members and their ladies assembled at 8 o'clock and took their places at the three large tables, which ran the length of the hall, while a short programme of music was cleverly rendered by Campbell's orchestra.

The installation of the recently-elected officers was the first number on the programme, and the following were duly installed in the places for which they were chosen, and will occupy for the ensuing twelve months: Archon, John F. Kelly; provost, John G. Imiedoph; secretary, M. J. Biglin; financier, A. J. Mulderig; treasurer,

George Frabic, prelate, John Hartman; inspector, Philip McGuire; warden, Thomas C. Jordan; sentinel, W. P. Lynch; trustees, P. J. Hickey, Dr. M. H. Quinn and T. H. Sprukus; medical examiners, Drs. Walsh, Quinn and Manley.

Supper was then announced, and about 150 couples partook of a dainty and elegant menu, provided by Caterer P. F. Durkin, as follows:

Roast Beef	Turkey	Oyster Patties
Cold Ham	Mashed Potatoes	Cold Slaw
Chicken Salad	Pickles	Relishes
Celery	Bananas	Olives
Oranges	Cigars	Cake

During the progress of the supper several selections were rendered by the orchestra. Numerous short addresses were made by the members and visitors. Delegates were present from Pittston, Forest City, Carbondale, Olyphant, Peckville, Providence and central city conclaves.

The conclave is in a most prosperous condition and has in the general fund at the present time over $700. Claims to the amount of seven were promptly paid during the past year which closed with 141 members in good standing.

M. J. Biglin, the secretary, who was again re-elected, has served ten successive terms, and in fact is the only secretary the organization has ever had.

A. J. Mulderig, the efficient and capable financier, has occupied that office three terms to which he was chosen after having served three terms as presiding officer. His books are models of correctness and are always open for the inspection of members at his Lackawanna avenue store. Mr. Kelly, the newly chosen archon, is serving his first term in office, but the members have every confidence in his judgment and executive ability.

The following prominent members composed the team of District Deputy C. C. Donovan, and assisted him in the ceremonies: Supreme provost, C. G. Boland; supreme secretary, C. A. Keller; supreme treasurer, William Corless; supreme prelate, W. L. Allen; supreme inspector, W. V. Hendrick; supreme warden, Thomas Griffiths.

Among the Sharpshooters.

Much interest is manifested among the members of Electric City Rifle club over the outcome of this season's match, because of the many valuable prizes offered, and six prizes open for the regular competition, one gold medal and five silver badges, which go in rotation to the six best shots.

The contestants must shoot at least ten scores of ten shots each to qualify, and the member having the highest average takes first prize, the other prizes being awarded according to averages in rotation. Four prizes are offered in addition to the regular match and all are well worth contesting for. The Spencer medal, a gold badge, will be awarded to the member making the most points during the season. The Davis medal will be awarded to the member making the best first shot on any regular practice night, the idea being to show the nerve and precision of members offhand.

The John Bunker prize, a picture of himself, will be awarded to the best centre shot who has complied with the rules and is a member of the club. The J. A. Greening prize, a 12-inch, 6-power nechromatic rifle telescope, is offered to the member making the best centre shot after having completed the 100-shot score as required by the rules.

The season does not close until the last Friday in April, and there is much rivalry, owing to the numerous and costly prizes. The matches take place on Blutter's range every Friday evening.

Before Alderman Lentes.

John Trust was arrested on charges preferred by John Zadvartnicky, of Taylor, of aggravated assault and battery, and felonious wounding with intent to commit murder.

It appears by the evidence as offered before Alderman Lentes last evening that Trust is a neighbor of the prosecutor in Taylor and had taken a dislike to him for some unknown reason. On Tuesday he followed Zadvartnicky from a saloon to a lonely spot and there made a vicious, murderous assault on him with a knife or other sharp instrument.

The prosecutor was a mass of blood

SILKS SILKS SILKS

Pretty Foulard Silks!

Are you interested? A customer said yesterday in our hearing: "I have been looking at the new Foulard Silks displayed in the Silk Department, and to say I am pleased is mildly expressing myself—I am thoroughly delighted."

It certainly shows elegant taste on the part of this Big Store to make such a fine display this time of the year. This line of Foulards are this spring's favorite patterns—Polka-Dots, Fables, Dresdens and All-Over Effects, on ground colors of pink, light blue, cream and navy.

NUBS OF NEWS.

A baby daughter has arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Krayer, on Cedar avenue.

Charles Wankle, of Birch street, who has been quite ill all winter, returned home yesterday from a trip, which he took for his health, to Philadelphia and other cities.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Church of Peace will meet this afternoon in the church basement. Much interest is being shown in the Brewery Workers' coming ball, which will be held in Music hall, February 2. A picked team from the Backus alleys was defeated last night by the South Side Bowling club on the latter's alleys. The latter team won two out of three games, making a total of 2,483 to the other team's 2,355. The South Siders also won a fourth game by 183 pins.
